Risk and Reward Profile

This refers to the Relative Institutional JPY class. Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future. The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may shift over time. The lowest category does not mean 'risk free'. The synthetic risk and reward indicator of 6 reflects the volatility of the Japanese market over the last 5 years.

The Fund pursues return in an aggressive manner that may involve investing in unpopular or distressed stocks, and these risks may not be adequately captured by the synthetic indicator. The Fund is also exposed to falls in the Japanese stock market.

The Fund invests primarily in shares that should be easy to sell, but redemption may be delayed in extraordinary circumstances.

The JPY, USD, EUR and GBP share classes are exposed to different foreign exchange risks

Exchange Risk: Foreign exchange rate variations may cause the value of investments to decrease. For JPY share classes this risk will be fairly limited as a result of the Sub-Fund's net asset value being calculated in JPY and the Sub-Fund investing principally in JPY-denominated securities. For other currency classes this risk may be greater than the usual exchange risk associated to investment because the net asset value of these classes may be affected favourably or unfavourably by fluctuations in currency rates.

Concentration Risk: Certain Sub-Funds may invest in securities of one country or a limited number of countries. Sub-Funds that invest in one or a few select countries will be exposed to market, currency, and other risks related specifically to the economies of those countries.

Hedging Risk: The Sub-Fund may utilise derivatives to hedge against fluctuations in the relative values of the Sub-Fund portfolio positions as a result of changes in exchange rates, interest rates, equity prices and levels of other interest rates and prices of other securities. Such hedging transactions may not always achieve the intended effect and can also limit potential gains.

Liquidity Risk: In difficult market conditions, the Sub-Fund may not be able to sell a security for full value or at all. This could affect performance and could cause the Sub-Fund to defer or suspend redemptions of its shares.

Counterparty Risk: The insolvency of any institutions providing services such as safekeeping of assets or acting as counterparty to derivatives or other instruments, may expose the Sub-Fund to financial loss.

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (CIS) should be considered as medium to long-term investments. The value may go up as well as down and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CISs are traded at the ruling price and can engage in scrip lending and borrowing. The collective investment scheme may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Manager. There is no guarantee in respect of capital or returns in a portfolio. A CIS may be closed to new investors in order for it to be managed more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. CIS prices are calculated on a net asset basis, which is the total value of all the assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions (brokerage, STT, VAT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee and custodian fees and the annual management fee) from the portfolio divided by the number of participatory interests (shares) in issue. Forward pricing is used. The Fund's Total Expense Ratio (TER) reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TERs. During the phase in period TERs do not include information gathered over a full year.

Transaction Costs (TC) is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.

Representative Office: Prescient Management Company (RF)(Pty) Ltd is registered and approved under the Collective Investment Schemes Control Act (No.45 of 2002). Where foreign securities are included in a portfolio there may be potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risks, political risks, foreign exchange risks, tax risks, settlement risks, and potential limitations on the availability of market information. The investor acknowledges the inherent risk associated with the selected investments and that there are no guarantees. Please note that all documents, notifications of deposit, investment, redemption and switch applications must be received by the fund administrator, Northern Trust, by or before 12:00 noon (Luxembourg time), to be transacted at the net asset value price for that day. Where all required documentation is not received before the stated cut off time the fund administrator, Northern Trust, shall not be obliged to transact at the net asset value price as agreed to. The Fund is priced at either 3pm or 5pm depending on the nature of the Fund.

Performance has been calculated using net NAV to NAV numbers with income reinvested. The performance for each period shown reflects the return for investors who have been fully invested for that period. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestments and dividend withholding tax. Full performance calculations are available from the manager on request.
