Report from the Investment Manager

CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Strategy Fund

Sub-Fund performance

The Sub-Fund CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Strategy Fund rose by 5.35 % during 2015. Accordingly, the Sub-Fund has continued to provide a good return considering its risk level. However, we note that the Sub-Fund's focus on equities with stable and high dividends has not been as successful in relative terms over the past year as it has been during the preceding years.

The performance of the world's leading stock markets was positive, and the same applies to the Nordic markets. Like last year, the Danish market performed best thanks to continued strong share gains for Novo Nordisk. The Norwegian market, however, felt the effects of lower and lower oil prices. Central banks continued to try to stimulate their economies, not least in Europe. We now have negative policy rates in both Denmark and Sweden, intended to create some inflationary pressure. Concerns about global economic growth, however, mean that yields on long-term bonds are having trouble rising.

The US dollar continued to rise sharply in early 2015, but this came to a halt after the reported weak growth in the wake of a harsh winter. The euro softened somewhat, particularly in connection with the Greek crisis in the spring and summer. Neither Denmark nor Sweden has seen its currency lose value to any great extent, despite the negative interest rates.

Sub-Fund management

The investment policy of the Sub-Fund essentially means that it invests its assets in high-yield securities issued by Nordic companies. This yield may consist of either stock dividends or interest coupons on bonds. It is our opinion that the allocation between equities and corporate bonds over time will be 50/ 50, but this will vary.

When Electrolux published its year-end report for 2014 the share price rose sharply, prompting us to sell the holding. The position in SEB was also divested, and the holdings in Investor and Skanska were reduced following solid rises in their share prices.

Castellum is a newcomer to the portfolio. This property stock provides a dividend yield of approximately 4 %. Its properties are mainly in the Stockholm area. At the end of the year, we made investments in several relatively cyclical companies such as Atlas Copco, Gränges and Finnish Metso. These shares have been avoided due to concerns about economic growth, which resulted in reasonable valuations and dividend yields in excess of 4 %.

After having prioritised investments in bank stocks over bank bonds for a number of years, the Sub-Fund has now invested in so-called hybrids in SEB, SHB, DnB and SBAB. These are subordinated bonds issued by banks to replace old bonds at maturity, but in terms of risk these are closer to equity. In order to protect taxpayers, the Swedish Financial Supervisory Authority is able, in particular circumstances, to suspend the interest coupon and request a write-down of the debt. Since these instruments have a higher risk than traditional bonds, the interest rate is higher. The interest rate on the Fund's holdings is 4-5 %. The Sub-Fund has also bought bonds issued by Vattenfall. The bonds in Candy King were sold.

Derivative trading etc

The Sub-Fund traded in derivatives during the first six months of the year. The Sub-Fund buys securities in foreign currency. To protect Swedish unit holders against currency movements in the bond holdings, the Sub-Fund hedges its bonds using currency forwards. The Swedish krona's movements against other currencies did not have any significant impact on the Fund's unit value during the period.

Securities holdings

At 31st December 2015, 96 % of the Sub-Fund's assets were invested in underlying securities. The remaining 4 % consisted of cash and other net assets. Equities made up 55 %.

Outlook

Our view, as previously, is that a portfolio of corporate bonds and stable stocks that pay good dividends creates good conditions for sound long-term value growth at relatively low risk. The fact that shares with high dividend yields had a tougher time, particularly during the first half of 2015, does not lead us to change this strategy.

The ever-higher prices of stocks and corporate bonds in recent years make it harder, but not impossible, for us to find stocks with high dividend yields or high yielding bonds. It might not matter when the prices of the Fund's investments rise, as one might take the opinion that the Sub-Fund is simply receiving future dividends up-front. That said, the potential for future yield falls. However, the gains in 2015 were more muted than in the past, which means that the performance of the companies has partly caught up. Expectations for the Sub-Fund should therefore be lower than the returns it has generated during the past three years.

CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Corporate Bond

Sub-Fund performance

The Sub-Fund CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Corporate Bond rose by 0.98 % in 2015, rising 1.83 % in the first half and falling -0.84 % in the second. The net flow for the Sub-Fund was a negative SEK 590 million. NAV ended the year at SEK 12 billion. Long-term interest rates were marginally up over the year, but the trend was very choppy. The market has generally been volatile, and few fixed-income Funds managed to generate a positive return for the year. The spread, or the difference in interest, between corporate bonds and government securities narrowed in the first half, and this favoured Fund performance, while the second half showed increased premiums for corporate bonds across all segments. This was the strongest reason for the negative return in the second half. The Sub-Fund invests in Nordic and Nordic-related corporate bonds.

Sub-Fund management

The final days of the year provided a long-awaited, and almost historic, hike in interest rates by the US Federal Reserve (Fed) after nine years without interest rate increases. Current monetary policy remains expansionary at a global level, despite the recent interest rate hike by the Fed, and we should not forget that the European Central Bank remains in an expansionary phase, with further quantitative easing expected. Our own Swedish Riksbank has been criticised for its monetary policy, and more and more commentators are beginning to question both its inflation target and the policies being pursued, with Sweden really standing firm as a high performer in Europe. Only time will tell whether inflation will arise through lower export prices and, most recently, currency intervention.

Enough about central banks, even though these (unfortunately) take up far too much focus. Geopolitical and real economic events also affected the market during the year. Russia, as we mentioned last year, has been a recurring theme. What raised the pulse of the market significantly was, despite everything, the Chinese economy and the subsequent stock market fall. We defer to our colleagues who are active in these markets for more details, but we can say that the effects were negative on both debt markets and equity markets around the world. The fact that Iran has been partially brought in from the cold is highly relevant to oil prices, since it is the world's fourth-largest producer, and additional supply in the market has negatively affected prices. Few countries dependent on oil are able to balance their budgets at these levels, and few oil companies are making a profit. When large government Funds choose to sell financial assets to Fund their domestic economy, there is a downward effect on the price of financial assets.

Despite this unrest, the Sub-Fund was active in both the primary and secondary markets during the year, and major strategic investments include Akelius, Volvo and Icelandic banks. We continue to reduce exposure to the oil sector. The Sub-Fund should be able to provide a return of 4-6 % over a cycle, but given the current interest rates, closer to 3-4 % is realistic.

Derivative trading etc

The Sub-Fund hedges bonds issued in foreign currencies against the Swedish krona. The Sub-Fund is therefore not significantly affected by currency movements. The Sub-Fund may use derivatives, partly to enhance or protect credit exposure and also to decrease or increase interest duration. The commitment approach is applied as the risk assessment method to calculate the total exposure of the Fund. The margin requirement per 31st December 2015 was SEK 0. Issued collateral amounted to SEK 230 million.

Outlook

Anyone who is worried about what higher interest rates could do to the portfolio, and who is looking for Fund managers with experience of rising interest rates, will search in vain. It was over 35 years ago that we experienced a broad trend of rising interest rates that was not driven by individual country credit risk. Only time will tell whether interest rates will now move upwards. The arguments for are that normal interest rates are higher than the current level, and that high inflation on the back of inflated assets could force a sharp rise in interest rates. The pessimist could point out that the economy has stagnated and that we have a "Japan scenario" ahead, with years of low interest rates, inflation conspicuous by its absence, the economy growing at a modest pace and with a higher level of equilibrium unemployment. These are some of the arguments. We will continue to maintain a short duration so as not to be exposed to sharp interest rate rises. We can see that the risk premium for corporate bonds is higher than it has been for a long time, which is positive, especially for investment grade companies.

Central banks remain in the spotlight, and banking regulation is a hot topic with banks now only recruiting staff in reporting and compliance. Geopolitical risks remain high, and Brexit is taking over from Grexit.

a) Presentation of the financial statements

The financial statements of the Company are established in accordance with the Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements concerning Undertakings for Collective Investment.

The financial statements are presented on the basis of the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Funds calculated on 31st December 2015. In accordance with the prospectus, the last official trading NAVs of the corresponding Sub-Funds have been calculated on 30th December 2015 as banks were closed for business in Stockholm on 31st December 2015. - b) Valuation
 - Securities admitted to official listing on a stock exchange or which are traded on another regulated market which operates regularly and is recognised and open to the public within the EU or the OECD member states are valued on the base of the last known sales price. If the same security is quoted on different markets, the quotation of the main market for this security is used. If there is no relevant quotation or if the quotations are not representative of the fair value, the evaluation is done in good faith by the Board of Directors or its delegate with a view to establishing the probable sales prices for such securities;
 - 2) non-listed securities are valued on the base of their probable sales price as determined in good faith by the Board of Directors and its delegate;
 - 3) liquid assets and money market instruments are valued at nominal value plus any accrued interest or on an amortised cost basis. Securities valued at amortized cost are disclosed at cost value in the statement of investments, amortized interests are recorded as income receivable on portfolio in the statement of net assets. All other assets, where practice allows, are valued in the same manner. Short-term investments that have a remaining maturity of one year or less are valued (i) at market value, or (ii) where market value is not available or not representative, at amortised cost;
 - 4) financial instruments which are not traded on the futures exchanges but on a regulated market are valued at their settlement value, as stipulated by the Company's Board of Directors in accordance with generally accepted principles, taking into consideration the principles of proper accounting, the customary practices in line with the market, and the interests of the Shareholders, provided that the above-mentioned principles correspond with generally accepted valuation regulations which can be verified by the auditor;
 - 5) swaps are valued on a marked-to-market basis. Unrealised gains and losses are recorded in the statement of net assets. Net variation of the unrealised gain/ (loss) and realised gain/ (loss) are recorded in the statement of operations and other changes in net assets;
 - 6) units or shares of UCI(TS) are valued at the last available Net Asset Value;

In the event it is impossible or incorrect to carry out a valuation in accordance with the above rules owing to particular circumstances, such as hidden credit risk, the Board of the Directors is entitled to use other generally recognised valuation principles, which can be examined by an auditor, in order to reach a proper valuation of each Sub-Fund's total assets.

- c) Net realised gain/ (loss) on sales of securities

The net realised gain/ (loss) on sales of securities is determined on the basis of the average cost of securities sold.
