Report from the Investment Manager

CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Strategy Fund (feeder fund)

Sub-Fund performance

2017 was characterised by a strong securities markets. More or less all the world's major economies seem to be headed in the right direction. Company reports also testify to a good earnings trend, which is explained not only by cost cutting but also by increased sales.

Central banks continue to pursue expansionary monetary policy as inflationary pressures remain low. However, the US Federal Reserve has continued to raise its key rate. Expectations are now growing elsewhere that central banks will start tightening as growth is surprisingly positive. Inflationary pressures, on the other hand, are generally still low so long-term interest rates are at historically low levels. It was noteworthy that the US dollar lost value in 2017, despite good growth and a decision on tax cuts. However, other economies have in many cases been a big surprise, especially in Europe.

The good economic climate and the stable interest rates have contributed to increased risk appetite, which is reflected in shrinking interest rate spreads. Corporate credit has therefore performed well in addition to shares.

The Sub-Fund rose by 7.22 percent in 2017. Despite this positive trend, the Sub-Fund actually dropped somewhat in the second half of the year. The Sub-Fund's equity investments, which consisted primarily of Swedish stocks, were affected by the gathering turmoil in the Swedish housing market during the autumn. The Sub-Fund's construction shares were most affected.

Outflows during the period amounted to SEK 468 million. Assets under management on 31st December 2017 amounted to SEK 528 million.

Sub-Fund management

The Sub-Fund has been a feeder fund to the Carnegie Strategifond since 2nd November 2017. Since this date the Sub-Fund invests its assets only in Carnegie Strategifond. The investment strategy for Carnegie Strategifond, and thus indirectly for the CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Strategy Fund (feeder fund), means in short that the Sub-Fund invests its assets in securities issued by Nordic companies that generate high direct yields. The direct yield can be either dividends or interest coupons on bonds. Below are comments on the more significant portfolio changes.

The proportion of shares amounted to approximately 65 percent of Carnegie Strategifond's assets. The strong performance by several of these shares at the beginning of the year led to the proportion of shares increasing to more than 70 percent in April. Subsequently, in order to reduce the risk, the management of the Master Fund sought to reduce the equity holdings in favour of corporate credit. At the end of the year, therefore, the equity stake was just over 50 percent.

However, the stock holdings in NCC and SCA were increased. NCC is experiencing generally high demand, but profitability problems on some projects in Finland and Norway have probably held back the share price. Its financial position is strong and there is seemingly potential for an extra dividend in the future. SCA has been an important holding in the Sub-Fund for almost the whole year. The announced division into a forest assets company (SCA) and a hygiene products company (Essity) was expected to result in a higher total value. This turned out to be the case and the forest products division (SCA), in particular, has a higher valuation than most analysts predicted before the split. In addition, Carnegie Strategifond bought shares in DnB and Nordea, two banks with relatively low exposure to the Swedish housing sector. The purchases were financed through sales of the holdings in Tele2, SKF, Autoliv and Kemira, which were made at good profit. Carnegie Strategifond also sold shares in Investor and Industrivärden after their discounts to net assets had fallen considerably. These discounts rose again towards the end of the year.

RSA is a new bond holding. The company owns Trygg-Hansa and also has insurance operations in Canada and the UK. Another new holding is Lebara, a virtual telecom operator that uses other telecom companies' networks. In addition, further purchases were made in bonds issued by alarm company Verisure and by B2 Holding, a Norwegian debt purchasing company. The fund also purchased bonds in Intrum Justitia when Lindorff's bonds were redeemed early.

Derivatives trading

Carnegie Strategifond traded in derivatives during the year. Carnegie Strategifond is able to purchase securities in foreign currency. To protect Swedish unitholders against currency movements in the bond holdings, the Carnegie Strategifond hedges its bonds using currency futures. The commitment approach is applied as the risk assessment method to calculate the total exposure of the Fund. The margin requirement in Carnegie Strategifond on 31st December 2017 was SEK 32 million. The Swedish krona's movements against other currencies did not have any significant impact on the fund's net asset value per unit. Since the CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Strategy Fund (feeder fund) became a feeder fund, currency hedging is conducted in that Sub-Fund and all the necessary currency hedging related to bond holdings is conducted within Carnegie Strategifond.

Securities holdings

On 31st December 2017, CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Strategy Fund (feeder fund) was 99.67 percent invested in Carnegie Strategifond and the remaining 0.33 percent comprised cash.

Outlook

Our view, as previously, is that a portfolio of stable stocks that pay good dividends and corporate bonds create sound conditions for good long-term value growth at relatively low risk.

Relatively weak price growth for some of Carnegie Strategifond's holdings at the end of 2017 means that the outlook for 2018 appears better. Nonetheless, expectations for the CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Strategy Fund (feeder fund) should be kept lower than the return the Carnegie Strategifond has generated over the past five-year period, averaging 13 percent per year. In a ten-year perspective, which also includes the major market downturn in connection with the financial crisis, the CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Strategy Fund (feeder fund) has on average returned 7 percent per annum, which probably creates more realistic expectations about future returns.

CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Corporate Bond

Sub-Fund performance

2017 was characterised by improved economic signals globally and continued very expansionary monetary policy, although some steps were taken towards more normalised levels. The Nordic credit market was very strong overall, as evidenced by both large inflows to credit funds in general and an intensive primary market with a record-large issue volume. CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Corporate Bond performed well in 2017 and rose 3.9 percent, increasing by 2.76 percent in the first half and 1.14 percent in the second.

2017 began with high risk appetite on the back of positive economic and inflation data, which was also widely reflected in corporate reports and upbeat outlooks. As a result, both stock exchanges and long-term market interest rates rose, while credit margins fell. However, central banks muddied the end of the first half of 2017. The US Federal Reserve made an expected increase in its policy rate and the ECB talked for the first time about reducing its expansionary monetary stimulus. The market reacted sharply, with falling equity markets, widening credit margins and considerable rises in long-term market interest rates. There was a high level of activity on the Nordic credit market throughout the first half of the year, with a very strong primary market and high demand for bonds across the risk scale.

The autumn was partly characterised by increased geopolitical tensions, including that between North Korea and the United States, which had a mixed effect on the financial markets. The ECB extended its support purchases until September 2018 and the Fed made further expected increases in its policy rate. The big talking point in Sweden over the autumn and winter was the housing market, as house prices fell sharply. The main impact was on housing developers, which were traded down on both the stock market and the bond market. High-yield funds suffered from large outflows in Europe and the United States, while the Nordic credit markets performed relatively well, although risk appetite was generally lower in the fourth quarter. However, activity in the Nordic primary market was high all the way up to Christmas, which also affected certain segments in the secondary market that were saturated. Overall, however, the autumn was characterised by relatively good risk appetite, and oil prices ended the year at the highest level for two years.

The Sub-Fund had net inflows of SEK 3.296 million during the year, and assets under management at the end of December 2017 were a record SEK 15.4 billion.

Sub-Fund management

We maintained a balanced portfolio in 2017 and invested in both the primary and secondary markets. The largest contributors to the portfolio during the year were high yield credits and hybrid and subordinated bonds although, overall, all segments contributed positively to the return. Investments worth mentioning in the primary segment were Intrum Justitia, telecom company Lebara, real estate company Samhällsbyggnadsbolaget, and subordinated bonds in Telia. In the secondary market, we downwardly adjusted the weight of the portfolio somewhat, especially in subordinated bank debt as returns during the year were driven down too low. In terms of sectors, we increased the portfolio's weight in shipping in the light of a large number of beneficial transactions in the segment, where we obtained both a high margin and very good collateral.

Babak Houshmand left Carnegie Fonder in spring of 2017, but this did not lead to any changes in the management of Carnegie Corporate Bond.

Derivatives trading

The Sub-Fund manages currency risk by hedging the exchange rates of foreign currencies against the SEK. The Sub-Fund may use derivatives, partly to enhance or protect credit exposure and also to reduce or increase the interest rate duration. In order to calculate the Sub-Fund's total exposure resulting from the use of derivatives, the commitment approach has been used as the risk assessment method. The margin requirement per 31st December 2017 was SEK 0.

Outlook

Following a year of very high risk appetite, we are slightly more cautious about 2018 and expect returns in line with coupons rather than from the price rises for bonds that accounted for much of the returns on 2017. Although we can see positive economic signals providing continued support for the credit quality of the portfolio, we still maintain a balanced portfolio with short credit duration to allow for any volatility associated with geopolitical risks, less expansionary monetary policy or a generally reduced risk appetite. We also continue to maintain short interest rate duration to minimise the effect of potentially rising long-term interest rates. The anticipated return on the Sub-Fund after fees in the current market climate is around 1.5-2 percent.

CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Total

Sub-Fund performance

CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Total has performed well. The Sub-fund rose by 7.25 percent during the year, and since inception by 10.58 percent. Net flows to the Sub-Fund during the year amounted to SEK 559 million and assets under management at year-end were SEK 691 million.

Emerging markets have performed better than developed markets this year, supported by rising corporate profits and a weaker dollar. Equities as an asset class have done well, and in today's low-interest environment there are few investment alternatives. The low interest rates and expectations of gradually rising long-term rates mean that the potential for traditional fixed income investments in, for example, government securities are very low. We prefer corporate bonds even if the risk in these is higher. Market corrections occur now and then but our focus is on achieving a good long-term risk-adjusted return.

Sub-Fund management

CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Total is an asset allocation fund (fund of funds) that invests in a variety of Carnegie Fonder's most successful funds. These include Carnegie Sverigefond, Carnegie Småbolagsfond and Carnegie Corporate Bond. Carnegie Fonder's range is also complemented with some of OPM's and C Worldwide's funds. All the funds in CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Total are long-term and actively managed. The strategic asset allocation is 60 percent stocks and 40 percent fixed-income. An emphasis on the equity side creates good long-term potential, while the fixed-income funds can act as shock absorbers in troubled times. CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Total's fixed-income component consists mainly of corporate bonds, which have better opportunities to generate returns relative to government bonds with low returns. Tactical asset allocation takes place continuously, with adjustments to the equity and fixed-income portions. Changes to the fund are decided by the portfolio manager, with the support of an investment board. CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Total's construction allows diversified savings in actively managed funds with good track records at a competitive fee. CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Total's construction allows diversified savings in actively managed funds with good track records at a competitive fee. CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Total consists of proven funds, managed by proven managers, according to a proven model.

During the year, the Sub-Fund sold Carnegie Indienfond and instead increased its stake in Carnegie Asia. At the beginning of the year, we also divested the holding in Carnegie Rysslandsfond. The Russian stock market was one of the winners during the previous year, but showed a negative trend for most of this year. The Russian market bottomed out during the summer and we judged that it was once again a good time to enter. We found support from statistics confirming that the Russian economy had stabilised. GDP for the second quarter rose by 2.5 percent, the strongest figure for almost five years. In addition, oil prices gradually strengthened in the second half, which contributed to our positive attitude towards Russia. We sold the holding in Carnegie Indienfond at the beginning of the summer after good performance, and instead upped our weighting in Carnegie Asia. We estimated that there was better short-term upside in other Asian stock exchanges, so we upped the weighting in Carnegie Asia to achieve broader exposure to the region.

Derivatives trading

The Sub-Fund has not traded in derivatives or lent securities during the period. The commitment approach is used as the risk assessment method to calculate the total exposure in the Sub-Fund. The margin requirement on 31st December 2017 was SEK 0.

Securities holdings

On 31st December 2017, 97.64 percent of the Sub-Fund's assets were invested in underlying funds. The remaining 2.36 percent was in cash and cash equivalents. Equity funds made up 65.61 percent.

Outlook

The stock market has for a considerable time been basking in the light of a well-synchronised global economic recovery. There is a clear danger that risk appetite will cool and investors will become more cautious. There is plenty to suggest increased volatility going forward. Despite a lot of political risks, the outlook for global growth is still good. European growth is improving and the US economy continues to expand at a relatively good pace. Emerging markets are also showing strength and are contributing to the global economic upturn. After a prolonged period of gains, it seems appropriate to be more selective and review the level of risk, but so far there are few obvious signs of recession. Taking this into account, any market corrections should be relatively short-lived at the present time.

CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE High Yield Select

CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE High Yield Select launched on 2nd November 2017, which means the statements about the Sub-Fund below cover only a short period of time and not full-year 2017.

In the current market climate, we are aiming to create most of the returns through interest payments, known as coupons, rather than pursuing returns from the rising bond prices and the high risk appetite that characterised the credit market in 2017. We are also trying to limit the downside through shorter credit and interest rate terms, which can clearly also limit the potential return. However, with an underlying coupon yield of around 6 percent in the current portfolio, we still believe this is the right choice for 2018.

2017 was generally a very active year in the Nordic new issue market, as well as globally, with good risk appetite. The Nordic new issue market was unusually active right into December, until the Christmas holidays brought a much-needed calm. The effects of being late in an active primary cycle became even clearer in December, meaning improved margins and bond terms. The secondary market remained selective, and often in the shade as most market participants focused on the primary market. As the primary market switched to holiday tempo, however, risk appetite in the secondary market generally improved and the last days of the year were relatively strong. On the whole, it was a very favourable climate in which to increase the allocation of the fund, while offering the potential for returns.

Sub-Fund performance

We are very pleased with the performance during this relatively short period of time the Sub-Fund has been running, and we have advanced further than planned in achieving a "normalised" portfolio in terms of the number of holdings and the weights of individual bonds. CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE High Yield Select returned 0.92 percent from launch on 2nd November 2017, so we can sum up its early days with "so far so good".

The Sub-Fund's development was mainly attributable to the development of the individual bonds we invested in, and to a lesser extent the general market trend. However, it should be added that during the launch we experienced a slightly weaker market, which made it possible to invest in most cases at what we consider attractive levels.

The Sub-Fund had net inflows of SEK 175 million during the year, and assets under management at the end of December 2017 were SEK 176 million.

Sub-Fund management

At the end of 2017, the Sub-Fund consisted of 35 bonds, most of which were purchased in the secondary market (mainly those with shorter maturities) and a smaller number in the primary market, and we are approaching our target of a "normalised" portfolio. The investments and the inflows are not entirely linear, which means that the portfolio will be gradually built up. For example, there was a large deposit on 29th December, which meant that we had 3.14% in cash and 15.80% in other net assets, which affects the key figures. For this reason, we report our key figures from three different perspectives: 1) what the portfolio looks like right now; 2) how the portfolio would have looked if we adjust for what we assess is a normalised level of cash (about 5 percent of capital); and 3) the target we see ahead of us for how the portfolio will look in 1-2 months.

Portfolio data	Current	Norm. cash	Target
Effective interest (currency adjusted in%)	5.3	6.2	~5.5%
Credit duration (years)	2.4	2.8	~3
Interest duration (years)	1.0	1.1	<1.5

The management team for CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE High Yield Select comprises from inception Niklas Edman and Maria Andersson, who also manage CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - Carnegie Corporate Bond.

Derivatives trading

The Sub-Fund manages currency risk by hedging the exchange rates of foreign currencies against the SEK. The Sub-Fund may use derivatives, partly to enhance or protect credit exposure and also to reduce or increase the interest rate duration. In order to calculate the Sub-Fund's total exposure resulting from the use of derivatives, the commitment approach has been used as the risk assessment method. The margin requirement per 31st December 2017 was SEK 0.

Outlook

We believe that strong economic signals will continue to contribute to relatively improved credit quality overall in 2018. Historically high risk appetite, geopolitical risks and less expansionary monetary policy mean we intend to maintain a balanced portfolio. The Sub-Fund invests in a limited number of companies that provide a high underlying return, so the performance of these companies is the most critical factor for returns in the longer term, although the Sub-Fund is not immune in the short term to changes in market sentiment. The anticipated return on the Sub-Fund after fees in the current market climate is around 4-5 percent.

Our opinion

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio and of each of its sub-funds (the "Fund") as at 31st December 2017, and of the results of their operations and changes in their net assets for the year then ended in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.

What we have audited

The Fund's financial statements comprise:

- the statement of net assets as at 31st December 2017;
- the statement of investments and other net assets as at 31st December 2017;
- the statement of operations and other changes in net assets for the year then ended; and
- the notes to the financial statements, which include a summary of significant accounting policies.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of 23rd July 2016 on the audit profession (Law of 23rd July 2016) and with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs) as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" (CSSF). Our responsibilities under those Law and standards are further described in the "Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements" section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

We are independent of the Fund in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements. We have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements.

Other information

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information stated in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our audit report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the Fund for the financial statements

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the Fund determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the Fund either intends to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the "Réviseur d'entreprises agréé" for the audit of the financial statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an audit report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of 23rd July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law of 23rd July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control;
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the Fund;

- conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors of the Fund's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our audit report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our audit report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern;
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

 - 4) financial instruments which are not traded on the futures exchanges but on a regulated market are valued at their settlement value, as stipulated by the Company's Board of Directors in accordance with generally accepted principles, taking into consideration the principles of proper accounting, the customary practices in line with the market, and the interests of the Shareholders, provided that the above-mentioned principles correspond with generally accepted valuation regulations which can be verified by the auditor;
 - 5) swaps are valued on a marked-to-market basis. Unrealised gains and losses are recorded in the statement of net assets. Net variation of the unrealised gain/ (loss) and realised gain/ (loss) are recorded in the statement of operations and other changes in net assets;
 - 6) units or shares of UCI(TS) are valued at the last available Net Asset Value;
 - 7) in the event it is impossible or incorrect to carry out a valuation in accordance with the above rules owing to particular circumstances, such as hidden credit risk, the Board of the Directors is entitled to use other generally recognised valuation principles, which can be examined by an auditor, in order to reach a proper valuation of each Sub-Fund's total assets.

Note 13 - Tax refund

The Company has instigated proceedings to reclaim tax withheld by certain Member States of the European Union on dividend payments it has received. The decision to initiate proceedings against any particular Member State is the result of an analysis of the likely costs and potential benefits of doing so. The likelihood of successfully reclaiming such amounts together with the estimated time to complete proceedings varies across Member States.

In 2016 a tax reclaim in Finland was done for CARNEGIE Fonder Portfolio - CARNEGIE Strategy Fund (feeder fund), so far no success was granted but the Sub-Fund awaits feedback in the next coming years. As such, amounts will be recorded, where applicable, on a cash basis under the caption "Other Income".

1 - Risk management

As required by Circular CSSF 11/ 512, the Board of Directors of the Company needs to determine the global risk exposure of the Company by applying either the commitment approach or the VaR ("Value at Risk") approach.

The Board of Directors of the Company decided to adopt the commitment approach as a method of determining the global exposure.

2 - Remuneration disclosure

SEB Fund Services S.A. (SEB) as AIFM (Alternative Investment Fund Manager)/ Management Company has implemented a Remuneration policy that is designed to encourage good performance and behavior, and seeks to achieve a balanced risk-taking that goes in line with shareholders'/ unitholders' expectations.

In SEB, there is clear distinction between the criteria for setting fixed remuneration (e.g. base pay, pension and other benefits) and variable remuneration (e.g. short- and long-term variable remuneration). The individual total remuneration corresponds to requirements on task complexity, management and functional accountability and also related to the individual's performance.

SEB provides a sound balance between fixed and variable remuneration and aligns the payout horizon of variable pay with the risk horizon. This implies that certain maximum levels and deferral arrangements apply for different categories of employees.

The amount below represents the proportion of the total remuneration on calendar year 2017 and adjusted according to the number of full time employees during the year 2017 and identified staff (i.e. the aggregate amount of remuneration broken down by senior management and members of staff of the AIFM/ Management Company whose actions have a material impact on the risk profile of the funds). This amount is further proportioned to the total net asset value of each fund, taking into account UCITS and non-UCITS.
